

OLD 69TH WOUNDED NOW MORE THAN 200

Furnished Nearly Half of Casualties From March 21 to April 5.

SIX WEEKS UNDER FIRE

German Gas Shells in One Barrage Get 105, but Injuries Are Slight.

When the war is over and Uncle Sam's soldiers return across a sea free from mines and submarines there doubtless will be many units bringing back imperishable records of valor, but none, perhaps, whose names will be written so large on the heart of New York as that of the 69th and the 165th Infantry.

As rapidly as identifications can be made from the bewildering undersea made public by the War Department the valiant struggle of these two companies against a skilful and cunning enemy becomes more and more apparent. Within the past two days casualty lists totalling 730 men have come out of Washington, covering the period from March 21 to April 5. Of this number 165 have been identified as members of the 69th and 165th, and 41 of M. a total of 314.

Under Fire for Six Weeks. If casualties might be taken as an indication it would seem that nearly half of the fighting of the entire American Expeditionary Force during this period has been done by these two companies. This, however, is not a criticism, for by no means all of the forces are in front line trenches at the same time, and war, just like every other business, has its dull and busy days.

Be this as it may, it is obvious that the commanding General of the Rainbow Division recognized the fighting spirit and dash of New York's 69th and 165th, organization, inasmuch as he gave them an important sector of the American front and kept them there exposed to shell fire, night and day, for six weeks. Moreover, according to Percy R. Atkins, a Y. M. C. A. secretary who served with the regiment in France and who arrived in New York Wednesday, the fame of the old 69th-ninth has spread to the German trenches, who determined to give it a warm reception.

On certain occasions the secretary, the Teutons sent over their greetings in the shape of a terrific barrage of gas shells, which resulted in 105 men being stricken. This, however, is accounted for the high percentage of casualties sustained by Companies M and K.

Were they discouraged? Not at all. What the 69th and 165th did not lack was the regiment's patron saint, one Patrick, the celebrated snake chaser, had decreed that the wounds should be slight. And so they were. About one-third of the injured warriors of the two companies live in Brooklyn.

Dowling, One From Rank. Patrick J. Dowling, whose name appeared in the "slightly wounded" list of yesterday afternoon, was a First Lieutenant in Company K of the 165th Infantry. He was about 31 years old, an athlete and a man of considerable military experience, so much so that he was loaned to the company, even though it was temporary, by the 69th.

Lieut. Dowling was born and educated in Ireland, coming to the United States when he was a young man. Apparently the trip over the sea was a taste for travel, for soon after landing in America he started on a jaunt around the world, which lasted several years, working and doing everything meanwhile to pay his expenses. Upon his return to this country he enlisted in Company K, 165th Infantry, of the Regular Army.

At the time of the Mexican border campaign he had become a Second Lieutenant, having gradually been promoted to this rank from that of private. As soon as he was given his discharge he entered the Flatbush training school and earned a commission as First Lieutenant, and was then assigned to the old 69th-ninth at Minnieola. He lived with his three sisters at 110 West Ninety-eighth street, Manhattan.

Pascale Chums Wounded. Edward Pasnager and Francis Rustace, whose names appeared in the list of slightly wounded, were identified yesterday as Pasnager, N. J., youths of 23 and 25, who were assigned to the same company. Relatives of the chums have received notification that they were wounded while fighting side by side.

Theodore Van York of 22 West Thirty-ninth street has been informed by the War Department that his two sons, Theodore Jr. and John, who were members of Company K, 165th Infantry, were wounded when fighting shoulder to shoulder March 21.

Corporal James P. Begley, Company K, of 586 Eighth street, Long Island City, enlisted in the old 69th-ninth in June, 1916, and served with the regiment on the Mexican border. He was made a corporal while on duty with the 165th, and was transferred to the Rainbow Division. Private Mortimer A. Clarke, Company K, of 35 Stevens street, Long Island City, was also among the wounded. He has been a member of the regiment since the summer of 1916.

Mrs. Colin C. Simpson of 8 South Fifteenth street, Flatbush, L. I., received a message from the War Department yesterday announcing slight injuries had been sustained by her son, Private Donald Simpson, 23, of Company K. Young Simpson was one of the men transferred from the Seventh Regiment to the old 69th-ninth last summer. His brother, Capt. William C. Simpson, Jr., of the Thirtieth Engineers, is also in France.

Another long Island lad, Sergeant William A. Murphy, Company K, was transferred from the 165th to the 69th-ninth. He lived with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William A. Murphy, at Beacon Hill, Port Washington. His mother said yesterday she had received a letter from him recently. His tone indicated he was enjoying himself immensely.
